Reasons for comment:

Comments: The MicroDrainage calculations (recently submitted but dated 21 November 2018) appear to show that for the 1 year, 30 year and 100 year storm return periods, the flows into the River Trent will be 277.6, 314.9 and 396.8 litres per second respectively.
This would appear to be in contravention of the Planning Condition limiting discharge to 17.8 litres per second.
Can this be explained please?

Let's take this next step, safely.
